

"Kindergarten xylem water" by Laura Hamilton is licensed under CC BY 2.0.

Color Changing Celery Science Experiment

All you will need is a clear jar, a few celery stalks and food color. After filling the jar with water, add a few drops of food color to it. Place the end of the stalk in it so that the leafy part of the celery is at the top. The celery stalk will slowly change color as it absorbs the colored water.

(You can also use kale as shown in the photo)