

"2. Post-vinegar Egg" by Woody Thrower is licensed under CC BY 2.0.

Bouncy Eggs Science Experiment

Ask your child to gently drop an egg into a kitchen sink. What happens? It breaks open. Tell them there is a way in which they can drop an egg and it won't crack. Proceed by placing an egg in a jar of vinegar. Check on the egg after a day. The egg shell should start peeling off and only a membrane will be left. Remove the egg from the jar and drop it but gently, and see what happens!